

Cambridge Lactation Network Summer Symposium

Thursday 11th of July,

Venue: Central Hall, (Old Divinity School), the Lightfoot room, Arthur Quiller Couch Room, St. Johns College

All attendees are encouraged to bring along a poster to showcase their work. With permission, submitted research topics/poster titles will be considered for a flash talk.

Time	Title/activity	Speaker
9:00-9:15	Registration and coffee
9:15-9:30	Cambridge Lactation Network: Overview and goals	Geula Hanin (Genetics) & Albert Koulman (IMS-MRL)
9:30-10:30	Biological insights into lactation
9:30-9:55	Establishing reference values for human milk micronutrients	Sophie Moore (Department of Women and Children's Health, King's College London)
9:55-10:20	Bee jelly and human milk	Eyal Maori (Biochemistry, University of Cambridge)
10:20-10:50	Art activity: Drawing/text to illustrate breastfeeding beyond current perceptions	Gemma Anderson
10:50-11:00	Coffee break
11:00-12:00	Public health and policy
11:00-11:25	The Anya app: translating the evidence-base into actionable insights for new families	Emilie House (Anya Health)
11:25-11:50	History of breastfeeding in the UK	Kath Rowold (University of Essex)
11:50-12:00	Flash Talks from junior researchers	Chosen from submitted poster title
12:00-13:30	Lunch +posters + artwork hung up
13:30-14:30	Cultural and anthropological perspectives of breastfeeding
13:30-13:55	Breastfeeding in hunter-gatherers societies	Nikhil Chaudhary (Archaeology, University of Cambridge)
13:55-14:20	Anthropology of breast-feeding rates for public health	Emily Emmott (Anthropology, UCL)
14:20-14:30	Flash Talks from junior researchers	Chosen from submitted poster title
14:30-15:00	Coffee break
15:00-15:30	Cross theme Debate: "Why does the UK have one of the lowest breastfeeding rates in the world?"	Moderators to be confirmed
15:30-16:45	What determines lactation "success"?
15:30-15:55	Doing what is 'most natural'? Social science perspectives on evolutionary narratives in contemporary parenting advice	Charlotte Faircloth (UCL)
15:55-16:20	Understanding the lactating mammary gland one cell at a time	Alecia-Jane Twigger (Biochemistry/Pharmacology, University of Cambridge)
16:20-16:30	Flash Talks from junior researchers	Chosen from submitted poster title
16:45-17:00	Closing remarks
17:00-	Drinks, canapes and posters	